iManage Workspace Generator presents extraordinary potential. Capable of molding itself to a firm's time and billing system, it generates workspaces independently, without any user input, automatically monitoring for new client, matter and metadata information.

iManage Workspace Generator software uses templates created in the iManage Control Center to automatically generate workspaces based on incoming information from the client's time and billing system. This eliminates countless hours of mundane labor and thereby dramatically increasing the firm's efficiency.

The iManage Workspace Generator provides features to create workspaces automatically or manually, allowing for the creation of large numbers of workspaces efficiently in a single execution. This is especially useful during the initial migration.
